

Improve Your Spelling!
Spelling Tip of the Day

Tip Five: Know Your Roots

Daily Writing Tips.com suggests that learning the root of the word can help writers better understand how words are written. After all, words are made up of pre-fixes, roots, and suffixes. Recognizing a familiar part of the word will help spellers not only identify a familiar part of the word, which makes spelling that much easier, but it helps them have a better sense of what the word's meaning.